Resiliency in Self-Storage and Strip Center Property Values

% Change in Green Street Commercial Property Price Index
June'20 to September'23

- Green Street Commercial Property Price Index is a time series of unleveraged U.S. commercial property values that captures the prices at which commercial real estate transactions are currently being negotiated and contracted
- With remote work arrangements here to stay post-pandemic, structural demand for offices is declining and continues to weigh heavily on the sector valuation. Commercial property price for the office sector has declined by 27% since June 2020
- On the other hand, the Strip Center sector has benefitted from the remote work arrangement as the additional flexibility has increased demand for the good and services offered in Strip Centers ranging from grocery shopping to dining. Strip Center sector values have increased 17% since June 2020
- Similarly, the Self-Storage sector has also benefitted from the work from home dynamic with values increasing by 52% since June 2020

Grocery & Necessity Retail Sector Continues to Demonstrate Resiliency

Consumer Trends and Tenant Demand for Space

- Strip Center REIT Occupancy now exceeds pre-pandemic levels and retail leasing volumes for 2Q23 were comparable to 2019 and 2022 with a greater focus on tenant lease renewals. Higher interest rates could impact the balance sheets of some retailers<sup>1</sup>
- Strip center foot traffic is hovering around pre-pandemic levels. The sector's greater emphasis on essentials (e.g., groceries, drug stores, and medical services) and off-price compared to other retail formats is a highly desirable attribute in a period when consumers are diligently managing their budgets, pressured by stubbornly high interest rates<sup>1</sup>

Tenant Sales Growth Moderates

- Quick-service restaurants, grocers and off-price retailers have experienced modest but positive comparable sales growth vs 2022. On the other hand, full price apparel – much less ubiquitous in strip centers than in malls – and home improvement/decor companies have witnessed a sales retreat<sup>1</sup>
- Retailer results have been mixed: some have been surprisingly positively (e.g., TJX, Ulta), and others negative (e.g., Target, Dick's)<sup>1</sup>

Property Transactions and Tenant Consolidation

- Transaction volume in Strip Center acquisitions is down 70% on a year-over-year basis<sup>1</sup>
- Consolidation in the Grocery Sector continues with the Aldi's acquisition of 400 Winn Dixie / Harvey's Supermarkets from Southeastern Grocers announced in August 2023. 75% of the Winn Dixie's stores are located in Florida<sup>2</sup>

1. Green Street, "Strip Center Sector Update", 29 August 2023.

2. Green Street, "Strip Centers Aldi & Winn Dixie: The Grocery Consolidation Continues", 18 August 2023.

Outlook

Storage Demand Drivers Have Normalized with a Return Of Seasonality

Fundamentals Moderating

- Occupancy is at pre-Covid levels (~92% on average), resulting in more modest existing customer rate increases<sup>1</sup>

Demand Drivers

- Peak leasing season in 2023 proved to be slow in light of sluggish home sale activity, which is a key driver of storage demand in the spring and summer months<sup>1</sup>
- Storage remains an attractive option to fulfill storage needs in comparison to additional apartment space<sup>1</sup>

New Construction

- Development remains muted due to high input prices; deliveries are expected to be around 3% per annum through 2027<sup>1</sup>

Self-Storage Deal Volume

- On 24 July 2023, Public Storage announced the acquisition of Simply Self Storage for $2.2 billion. The deal translates to a 5% - 5.5% cap rate<sup>2</sup>
