U.S. Market Update

Economic Growth Gains Momentum with Continued Strength in U.S. Consumer Spending

2024 GDP Forecast: +2.1%¹

- The U.S. GDP grew at a revised annualized rate of 3.0% in the second quarter of 2024, up from the initial estimate of 2.8%. This upward revision was driven by robust consumer spending and increased business investment²

August 2024 Unemployment Rate: 4.2%³

- Nonfarm payrolls increased to 142,000 in August 2024, bouncing back from a revised figure of 89,000 in July 2024⁴
- The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported 7.7 million job openings in July 2024, the lowest level since January 2021 as the U.S. job market cooled⁵

Inflation Rate in August 2024: +2.5%⁷

- Inflation rate has declined significantly from a 9.1% pandemic-era peak in June 2022 to 2.5% in August 2024⁷
- Personal consumption expenditures increased 2.5%⁸ in July 2024

Omnichannel Retailing – Creating a Unified Shopping Experience

Consumers returning to physical stores for personalized services

- 57% of shoppers surveyed want to see, touch and feel items before they buy them, and 68% are seeking expert advice on high-value purchases to ensure they are making the most informed choices. In a further sign that consumers are favoring physical store visits, 61% say they would go to a retailer for a store promotion that is not available online¹

Physical stores serving as fulfillment hubs for online orders

- In 2023, roughly 42% of e-commerce orders involved a store acting as a fulfillment hub or place where consumers can pick up or return items²
- In-store order fulfillment continues to grow:
 - For 1Q 2024, 81% of Target's sales volume originated from the physical store³
 - Walmart often talks about its stores as a competitive advantage with more than half of its online orders being fulfilled from local stores⁴

Outlook

Landlords Gain Edge Amidst Scarcity of Premium Spaces

Strip Center Supply Growth¹
Year-Over-Year

Grocery & Necessity Retail Sector

- The landlord-friendly supply and demand backdrop is forcing retailers to demonstrate flexibility in adapting their store sizes, store opening schedule and other conditions to match available space¹
- Retailers are leveraging their stores to lower the cost of distributing products sold online. Additionally, evidence has shown that in-store and online shopping tend to feed one another²
 - A recent study by the International Council of Shopping Centers shows that retailer online sales increase ~7% after a store opens in the area, while online sales decrease by ~12% when a store closes²

Self-Storage Sector

- Affordability and consumer health remain factors in assessing self-storage demand. Supporting these factors are the average self-storage cost-to-income ratio is slightly lower today than it was from 2012-2019. Additionally, when consumers need additional space, self-storage is a favorable option in comparison to the cost of a larger apartment³
- With interest rates expected to stay higher for longer and mortgage rates north of 7%, home sales and move-in rent growth are expected to remain pressured throughout 2024³

Outlook

Resiliency in Self-Storage and Strip Center Property Values

% Change in Green Street Commercial Property Price Index from June 2020 to June 2024

- Green Street Commercial Property Price Index is a time series of unleveraged U.S. commercial property values that captures the prices at which commercial real estate transactions are currently being negotiated and contracted
- With remote work arrangements here to stay post-pandemic, structural demand for offices is declining and continues to weigh heavily on the sector valuation. Commercial property price for the office sector has declined by 34% since June 2020
- On the other hand, the Strip Center sector has benefitted from the remote work arrangement as the additional flexibility has increased demand for the goods and services offered in Strip Centers ranging from grocery shopping to dining. Strip Center sector values have increased 16% since June 2020
- Similarly, the Self-Storage sector has also benefitted from the work from home dynamic with values increasing by 37% since June 2020

Investment Merits

Why Invest in United Hampshire US REIT

Stable Cashflows

- Grocery & Necessity and Self-Storage properties are generally considered cycle-agnostic and not as vulnerable to cyclical shifts in the economy
- Long WALE of 7.7 years¹ with largely triple net leases for Grocery & Necessity Properties
- High Grocery & Necessity Committed Occupancy of 96.3%

High Quality Assets

- Focused on affluent and populous US Eastern seaboard markets with higher spending power, lower supply and lower supply growth
- Majority of the tenants are considered essential businesses

Yield & Growth

- Exposure to strong US Consumer sector improving employment situation and rising consumer confidence
- Majority of existing leases provide for rental increases during the lease terms and/or renewal options with built-in rental increases
- Attractive dividend yield of 10.5%² based on current unit price

E-commerce Resistant

- Low margins is an impediment to grocery and home improvement products delivery
- Grocery & Necessity Property tenants have been successful in adopting an omnichannel strategy
- Large number of service-sector tenants with limited online alternatives

1. Computation included forward committed leases for Grocery & Necessity Properties only. Excluding forward committed leases, the WALE is 7.6 years as at 30 June 2024.

2. Based on 2H 2023 and 1H 2024 total distribution of 4.15 US cents and unit closing price of US$0.395 as at 28 June 2024.
