- U.S. retail sales rose more than expected in August, climbing 5.0% y-o-y, as consumers spent across a broad range of goods and dining. While part of the gain likely reflected higher prices, the widespread increase highlighted the economy's continued resilience in the face of mounting headwinds¹
- Retail spending rose across most categories last month. Clothing store sales climbed 1.0%, while receipts at sporting goods, hobby, musical instrument, and book stores advanced 0.8%. Food and beverage store sales edged up 0.3%, and service station receipts gained 0.5% on the back of higher gasoline prices. Households also increased spending at restaurants and bars, with sales at food services and drinking places—the only services category in the report—rising 0.7% after a 0.1% decline in July¹

Favourable Outlook for Grocery-Anchored Strip Centers

Strip Center Foot Traffic Gains

In 2Q 2025, strip centers recorded solid foot traffic, up 2% year-over-year. Most retailer categories across shopping center formats also experienced foot traffic gains compared to 2024.

Source: Green Street, "Strip Center Sector Update", 22 August 2025.

Limited New Supply Creates Tailwind for Strip Centers

New supply in the sector has been limited since the great financial crisis and is expected to remain limited as prevailing rent levels often do not justify the returns required for new developments. Recent tariff announcements and tighter restrictions on immigration have added uncertainty to construction costs, further discouraging new developments. Strip center annual supply growth is expected to trail all traditional sectors over the next five years, a significant tailwind for strip centers

Top-Tier Retail Space Remains in High Demand

With REIT leased occupancy in the high-95% range, the sector remains highly occupied—reinforcing retailers' perception that space in top-tier centers is limited and highly sought after

1H 2025 Financial Results

Strong Financial Performance, 4.0% Growth in 1H 2025 DPU

- Gross revenue and net property income declined by 3.0% and 5.6% respectively, primarily due to the absence of contributions from three properties divested in August 2024 and January 2025
- Excluding these divestments, same-store gross revenue and net property income would have increased by 2.6% and 2.4% respectively
- Same-store gross revenue and net property income were higher, driven by the commencement of new leases and rental escalations from existing leases
- Overall, distributable income was higher, mainly due to reduced finance costs resulting from lower interest rates and lower borrowings, following partial loan repayments made using proceeds from the divestments
